The organization of the ploneer band that made the original journey to this valley was his work, and he accompanied them.

Of him the historian Whitney says: "He was firm as a rock in his fealty o his chief. He combined sound judgment keen perception, with courage unaltering and sublime. Like lightuing were his intuitions, his decisions between right and wrong: like thunder his donunciations of what his soul conserved was error. A man for emergencies, far-sighted and inspirational, a master spirit and a natural leader of men."

It was on the foremon of July 24, 1841, that Brigham Young, "the founder of Utah, looked his first upon the foil glory of the valley of the lake."

"In this, our semi-centennial year, during which we shall celebrate the marvelous progress we have made as a people since 1841, the life and works of Brigham Young are of peculiar interest. Whatever others may have done toward the attainment of our present civilization, all will concede that his master mind conceived and his energy and efforts crystalized into success the movement which accomplished the reclamation of the desert and the present greatness of the state.

"On June 1st will reoccur his birthday. The Utah Semi-Centennial commission having in charge the pioneer jubilee call upon the people of Utah to celebrate with proper ceremonies the event, and to erect upon every staff in the state the flag of our country. In no better way can we signify our love for Utah and evidence our gratitude to the pioneers than by thus honoring the birthday of Utah's greatest pioneer and statesman."

The chief observance of the day in the city will be at the theater this evening, where a public meeting will be held under the ausnices of the commission. The programme is a most interesting one, and all who attend can assure themselves in advance that their time will be profitably spent, few people in Utah realize the magnitude of the plants for the edobration or the importance of having a united people behind the commission. Tonicht the commission will turn the light on its operations. It will give in detail the plants formulated, what has been accomplished thus far, what it expects to further accomplish, the amount of money subscribed to the fund, and the disposition that has been made of it. BEAUTIFUL AND IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES YESTERDAY.

Memorial Day Fittingly Observed by the Pupils—Principal McKay Warmiy Congratulated.

At Lowell school yesterday there was one of the most impressively beautiful ceremonles that the idea of Decoration day exercises could have called up. They only lasted un hour, but the breathless attention with which they were followed by the numerous spectators told that they might have gone on indefinitely without wearying any one. Principal McKay had charge, and under his direction and that of his corps of lady teachers everything.

The Great Unloading Sale at F. Auerbach & Bra. commences under his direction and that of his corps of lady teachers everything moved with the precision of clock work. The children of all the rooms were assembled in the main hall, and as these selected for the programme stepped out, a march on the minno was played, to the step of which the youngsters marched to the elevated platform and rendered their exercises. Poems and orations, suitable to the day, were recited, all of them in clear, rinsing lones. These were interspersed with such songs as "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," by the whole body. Tenting Tonight, by the whole body. Tenting Tonight, by 15 or 20 boys, sung in two parts, a Decoration day hymn to the tune of "America," and a very feeling selection, "A Tear for the Comrade That's Gone."

Gone."

The most beautiful feature of the exercises was the reciting by a band of little children, who came forward in pairs, a boy and a girl in each, while one recited four, six or eight lines of some pretty verse devoted to the hero dead, the other hald flowers hite a large basket decorated with bunting. This was repeated until 20 or 30 pairs had participated, when the basket was heaped up with flowers, and these were taken later and given to the G. A. R. procession.

Supreme Court Denies the Petition For Writ of Prohibition

AGAINST COUNTY BOARD

$120,000 VALID INDEBTEDNESS EXISTING BEFORE 1896.

The Board May Lawfully Issue Bends For That Amount, and if Any Part of it Shall Hereafter Be Found to Be Fraudulent, That Cannot Invalidate the Bonds Purchased in Good Faith.

The state supreme court yesterday handed down an opinion in the matter of the petition of S. W. Darke for a writ of prohibition to prevent the board of county commissioners from issuing $120,000 in Salt Lake county bonds in accordance with the resolution of the board recently passed.

The epinion, which was written by Chief Justice Zane and concurred in by Justice Eartoh and District Judge Hiles, dealed the writ and entered judgment for the defendants, so that the way is now clear for the bonds to be issued. The full text of the opinion is as fol-

Zano, C. J.

The plaintiff presents his affidavit and petition to the court in which he allows that he is a resident and taxinaver of Sait Lake county. Utah, that the beard of county commissioners of raid count; are about to best county bonds to the amount of $129,000, with the intention of seiling them and of applying their proceeds to the payment of indestedness accused prior to the thind are of January, 1825, that the supreme court of the late territory of Clash held $25,852.20 of the $129,000 to be invalid, because it exceeded the debt limit of the county, as fixed by statute of the territory; that an act of the legislature of the state of Utah in force june 5 1826, validated the same. Plaintiff insists that the sum of $35,068.21 must be regarded as indebtedness of 1838, and that the board has no authority to bond it.

The plaintiff also alleges that $35,432, the residue of the $120,000, was valid indebtedness of the county, and evidenced by warrants outstanding on Jan. 4, 1836, when Utah became a state; but that a considerable part of it was actually paid from the revenue of 1898, and that the board has no nower to be find that the facts stated do not show a cause of action. But the parties agree that all the essential facts are correctly stated in the affidavit, and submit the case for final decision and Judinment on them.

We are called upon to decide whether The plaintiff presents his affidavit and different cases of the control of th amount of the $120,000, or to any part of that amount.

First, As to whether the $59,568.22 should be regarded as 1855 or 1856 indebtodness. This indebtodness was invalid because it exceeded the debt limit fixed by an act of the territorial lexistiture. Therefore that legislature had the power to raise the limit and authorize the indebtedness; but the state legislature of 1856 ratified such action of the board in creating it without authority, validated the indebtedness, and authorized the insulance of londs to provide money with which to ray it.

Sess Laws, Utah, 1896, pp. 170 and 521. Sees Laws. Utah, 1895, pp. 179 and 524. The consideration for the indebtedness was received by the county in 1895, theigh the promise to pay at that time was invalid and remained so until the act of June 5, 1896. That act validicated the indebtedness, and thereby the promise, But for the consideration and the illegal promise in 1895, the law of 1896 would have been of me avail. The legislature could not line facto—without any consideration, by its own fat, impose indebtedness upon the county. The people did not intrust such arbitrary and absolute power to the legislature to impose upon them such unjust burdens.

ANNUAL VACATION EXCURSION

Rio Grande Western Rallway.

On June 5, 6 and 7, the Rio Grande Western rallway announces the following existing independence of the $120,000, it is conceded that the county before statellood, but it is made to the $120,000, it is conceded that it cannot be bounded, but it is made to the state of the s constitution, we hold that the revenue of the year should be appropriated to the payment of the indebtedness of the year. But is to say, to indebtedness of the year. But is to say, to indebtedness failing due during the year, so far as required, and if a surplus should remain it should become a part of the revenue of the next year.

The county board were authorized by section 14. Sess. Laws, Utah, 18%, to find any outstanding indebtedness on the 4th day of January, 18%, and to issue bonds therefor.

The board had no right to appropriate to the revenue required for the say, 18%, and to issue bonds therefor. The board had no right to appropriate to fix the indebtedness of 18%, or previous years. It so far as the revenue of 18% it appears the revenue of 18%, to the indebtedness of 18%, or previous years in so far as the revenue of 18% was paid upon indebtedness of 18%, in papears the revenue of the year first named was insufficient to gay the indebtedness of that year. The purpose of the defendants is, as it appears, to raise money by a saie of bonds, which it is authorized to lexis and self for the payment of indebtedness of 18%, and thereby to enable the county to pay the persons holding valid indebtedness of 18%, which remains unpaid in consequence of the wronful payment of the revenue of the statehood, and to reimburs the revenue of statehood—on indebtedness of 18%, and by the payment of the statehood amount of the indebtedness of 18%, and by the payment of the funds of 18%, but the wrong having been paid to the payment of the funds of 18%, but the wrong having been paid on the indebtedness before statehood, but was not. It can cost the county in more to pay both chasses of indebtedness in that way. However, we do not wish to approve of 18%, and paying the county funds that should have been paid on the indebtedness before statehood. The board may lawfully issue bonds to that amount if any part of it shall hereafter be found to be fraudulent, that cannet invalidate the bonds purchased in good faith before. It w city prison for obtaining money among false pretenses. His accuser is S. H. Sault, manager of the curio store next the Walker House. Sault is charitable enough to regard Banes as a person totally irresponsible and therefore more a subject for the iname asylum than the penitentiary.

Banes, himself, does not but that sort of a construction upon his peculiar act, but claims that he has been on a protracted drunk and did not realize what he was about when he presented the two checks to Sault in payment of some purchases made by the prisoner yesterday afternoon. The paper was utterly worthless, one piece calling for 319 and the other for $15, drawn on Walker Brothers bank to the order of W. C. Banes. They were indorsed over to Sault, who accented them for a Navajo blanket. Later, he learned that Banes had no account at that bank.

Hanes was arrested on a warrant last evening while at his room in a downtown block. The blanket was recovered, so that Sault will not lose by the transaction. Banes is thought to be a curio crank who is willing to take big chances for a fancy. He will be arraigned this morning in the police court.
